About the CLRC: Since 1992, the Chicano Latino Research Center has helped make UC Santa Cruz a vibrant hub for Chicano, Latino, Latin American, and migration studies. Drawing from and bringing together the social sciences, humanities, and arts, our work explores the diversity of the Americas, with a focus on the mobility of people, ideas, objects, and commodities.

CCREC
CCREC is a University of California multi-campus research program initiative that links university researchers, community-based organizations, and policymakers in collaborative projects to achieve creative solutions to the problems in our communities.
